CREDENTIALS

All requests for game credentials should be directed in writing to Mrs. Adele Harris in the Cardinals' Public Relations office. All requests should be made at the earliest possible date since availability of seating in the main press box, and in some cases either press box, is determined by the promptness of the request.

Mail requests to Mrs. Harris at 200 Stadium Plaza, St. Louis, Mo. 63102.

WILL CALL WINDOW

The media will call window is located on the west side of Busch Stadium, on the second level, next to gate 4. The window opens one hour prior to kickoff.

POST-GAME LOCKERROOM POLICY

The Cardinals' lockerroom will be opened to accredited media seven to ten minutes following the conclusion of the game. Coach Jim Hanifan, his staff and players will be available at that time.

PRESS BOX PHONES

There are three direct-dial phones available to the media in the press box. Two are located in the first row of the main press box, in the visiting media area. A third is located in the work room off of the auxiliary press box. These phones have been installed for use by the media only. In addition, a pay phone is located on the second level of the main box.

CONFERENCE CALLS

The Cardinals' Public Relations department will conduct each week of the season a conference telephone call with a coach and/or player of the opposing team. The calls will take place in either the Stadium Club or the Cardinal's office, normally on Wednesday.

CODE-A-PHONE

Taped interviews with Cardinal players and coaches, as well as other team notes, are available on a recorded code-a-phone system. The number is available upon request.

COACH HANIFAN PRESS CONFERENCE

On Monday morning of each week during the regular season Head Coach Jim Hanifan holds a press conference in the Cardinal office.

WILLIAM V. BIDWILL
CHIEF EXECUTIVE
OFFICER AND CHAIRMAN
OF THE BOARD

The game of football has always been a part of the life of Bill Bidwill and the Football Cardinals operation in St. Louis his prime interest. As the Chief Executive Officer and Board Chairman of the team, his involvement with the Cardinals and the NFL represents one of the richest traditions in the league.

Since his father and Hall of Fame member Charles W. Bidwill purchased the team in 1932, his family has run the Cardinals, with Bill's involvement beginning at an early age. He remains an active, day-to-day leader in the management of the franchise, as he has been since before it was moved by the family from Chicago to St. Louis in 1960. He, in fact, serves as the head of the oldest continuous professional football franchise in the nation.

From the time of his purchase in 1932 until his death in 1947, Charles Bidwill ran the team. In the ensuing years Mrs. Violet Bidwill assumed control, and directed the organization for the next 15 years. In 1962 Bill, along with his brother Charles Bidwill, Jr., took over the direction of the team until 1972 when Bill became its sole owner.

The Cardinals have prospered with exciting football in St. Louis, with back-to-back divisional championships in 1974 and 1975 and a return to the playoffs in 1982.

Bidwill began gaining experience in the game's operations as a youth when he served as a helper on the field and progressed from that to public address announcer, contract negotiator and eventually top executive.

The Cardinal organization traces its roots back to 1898 when it was known as the Morgan Athletic Club in Chicago. The team received its current nickname from founder Chris O'Brien, when it began wearing faded maroon jerseys purchased from coach Amos Alonzo Stagg of the University of Chicago. The Cardinal red is still symbolic of the Big Red.

In 1920 the team became one of the two charter members of the National Football League, along with their cross-town rival Chicago Bears.

Bill Bidwill is an active civic and charitable contributor in St. Louis.

He is a graduate of Georgetown University and a veteran of the Navy.

BING DEVINE PRESIDENT AND CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Bing Devine completed his first season as the Football Cardinals President and Chief Operating Officer last year and, in 1983, begins his fifth at the executive level of the club. He brings to the organization more than 40 years background in the administration and direction of a professional sports front office.

As perhaps the only sports executive in the modern era to have served as the President of both a major league baseball team as well as an NFL franchise, Devine's expertise directs the overall operations of the Cardinals.

Though he has not missed a football season since first joining the organization in 1979, Devine was apart from the Big Red's operations for a six-month period in early 1982, when he was a vice-president with the Montreal Expos baseball team. He returned in July of last year as President.

He first joined the Cardinals as the Vice-President of Administration prior to the 1979 season. He held that position for three years, responsible for the organization's off-the-field operations.

Prior to entering the football profession, Devine spent 21 highly-successful years as a top executive in major league baseball. He built the foundations of four pennant-winning teams with the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals and the New York Mets and was twice voted the Major League Executive of the Year. He served two separate terms covering 18 years as the Executive Vice-President and General Manager of the Cardinals (1958-64 and 1968-78), and three years (1965-67) as the President and General Manager of the Mets. He was also a member of the San Francisco Giants front office prior to joining the Big Red in 1979.

His career began in the publicity department of the Baseball Cardinals in 1939. Two years later he was promoted to business manager of the farm team in Johnson City, Tennessee, where he also played second base for the club in 1941. Following a stint in the Navy during World War II, he returned to St. Louis in 1948 as an administrator with Cardinals' owners Bob Hannegan and Fred Saigh and was soon promoted to General Manager of the Cardinals top minor league club in Rochester, New York.

He again returned to St. Louis in 1955 as the assistant to Dick Meyer, then the Cardinals General Manager. He eventually succeeded Frank Lane as the club's top official after the 1957 season.

Devine is a native of St. Louis where he attended University City High School and a graduate of Washington University of St. Louis. He and his wife Mary have three daughters — Mrs. Joanne Schaumburg, Janice Devine and Mrs. Jane Pilkington — and five grandchildren.

LARRY WILSON DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

All player personnel acquisitions following the draft are the responsibility of Larry Wilson. He handles the club's signing of free agents and waiver transactions in addition to his work on the draft, trades and coordination of training camp. His role in the front office touches every base of football operations.

In his 11th year as an executive in the Big Red front office, Wilson begins his seventh season as the Director of Pro Personnel. The first four years of his administrative career were spent as the club's Director of Pro Scouting, beginning in 1972.

His work in teaming with head coach Jim Hanifan has rebuilt the Cardinals from a veteran club into one of the youngest, and most-improving teams in the league.

His name has been synonymous with the Big Red since they arrived together in St. Louis in 1960. His excellence during a 13-year playing career as a free safety earned him induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in January of 1978 following the minimum wait requirement of five years.

Part of his post-player days included a brief stint as the team's head coach when he relieved Bud Wilkinson for the final three games of the 1979 season. His record was two victories and one defeat.

During his playing career, Larry was voted All-Pro six times and played in eight Pro Bowls as a free safety. He set a total of 10 team records, including nearly every interception record. His 52 thefts are an all-time club record. He enjoyed his best season in 1966 when he led the NFL with 10 interceptions and tied a league record by intercepting a pass in seven consecutive games. His jersey number 8 is one of only four to have been retired by the club.

Wilson began his playing career as a seventh-round draft pick out of the University of Utah where he was a running back. He was switched to the defensive backfield his rookie year and when injuries cut into the veteran ranks, Wilson was given an opportunity at cornerback before settling in at free safety. Along with coach Chuck Drulis he innovated the safety blitz.

Larry, 45, and his wife Nancy live in St. Louis.

JIM HANIFAN

The difficult challenge of turning a football team around faced Jim Hanifan three years ago, but it is a challenge he has overcome in that short time span. The Head Coach of the Cardinals has taken his team from fifth place in 1979 to the playoffs in 1982.

In doing so, Hanifan changed the Cardinals roster as dramatically as their record. While building a young, developing team, the won-loss record in his first two years showed moderate improvement. More young players rooted themselves in Hanifan's lineup in 1982 and under his direction the Big Red became the youngest team in the NFL to qualify for the Super Bowl Tournament a year ago, despite a strike-interrupted season which was thought to be an advantage to the more experienced teams.

Over the three year period he has led the Cardinals, Hanifan has installed 14 new starters in his lineup and more than 25 players on the roster. His coaching tenure has been marked by aggressiveness, decisiveness and the ability to correctly judge his young talent.

He has brought similar development to his coaching staff with the addition of an assistant head coach for the defense and an offensive coordinator in the past two years. Hanifan now assumes a more broad leadership role as a head coach over a much stronger staff as he enters his fourth season.

Hanifan became the Big Red's head coach January 30, 1980. His first season ended with a 5-11 record, followed by a 7-9 mark in 1981 and 5-4 last year.

He described his first two years as a job of building a winning and positive attitude as much as fielding the best combination of players.

Hanifan's first coaching tenure in St. Louis, as a member of Don Coryell's staff, was from 1973 through 1977. He also spent one season (1978) under Bud Wilkinson.

As the offensive line coach of those teams, Hanifan took a latently talented group of players and turned them into the best offensive line in the league. His line set an NFL record by allowing the fewest quarterback sacks in a season (8) in 1975. He helped develop four members of that line into All-Pros; Dan Dierdorf, Tom Banks, Conrad Dobler and Bob Young. Starting in 1974, his linemen allowed the fewest sacks in the NFC for five consecutive years. In 1977 he was voted the NFL Assistant Coach of the Year.

Jim's first term with the Big Red ended after the 1978 season. He returned to San Diego to join Coryell as the assistant head coach in the city where the two men gained national attention for their great offensive teams at San Diego State. The offensive-minded Chargers won their division in 1979 with a 12-4 record. Under Hanifan's guidance they set an NFL record for most yards passing by a team in one season.

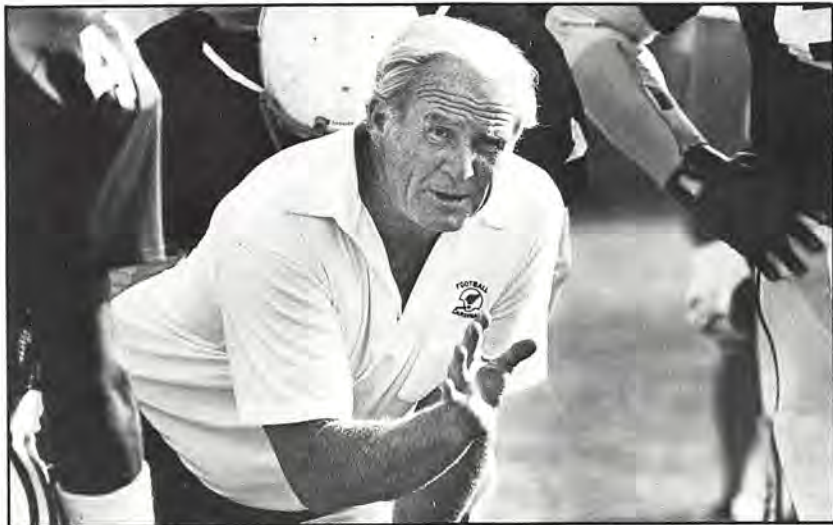

Hanifan began his coaching career at Charter Oak High Covina, California. He moved up as an assistant at Yuba (Calif.) Junior College (1959-61) and at Glendale College for three years (1964-66) before joining the University of Utah staff as an offensive coach. He met and coached with Chuck Banker, the Cardinals' special teams coach, at Glendale and first worked with offensive line coach Tom Lovat while at Utah.

He remained at Utah for four years and spent two at his alma mater, the University of California, in charge of the passing game before going to San Diego State in 1972 as the offensive line coach.

As a collegiate player, Hanifan starred as an end at the University of California for three years (1952-54). He led the nation in receiving in his final year and earned All-Coast honors. He played at Toronto in the Canadian Football League in 1955 and played end for Coach Coryell in the Army in 1956. He also played a year of semi-pro football for the Salinas Packers in Salinas, Calif., where he was a teammate and roommate of assistant head coach Floyd Peters.

Hanifan is the 28th head coach in Cardinal history and the seventh since the team moved to St. Louis from Chicago in 1960.

He was born James Martin Michael Hanifan on September 21, 1933 in Compton, California. He and his wife Mariana have two children; Kathleen, 23, and James, 11.

FLOYD PETERS — Assistant Head Coach, Defense

In his first season as Assistant Head Coach, Floyd Peters continued his outstanding track record in building defensive fronts. Under Peters' guidance the Cardinals line and overall defense demonstrated steady improvement in 1982, both in physical skills and attitude.

While many of his coaching priorities center on the defensive line, Peters also establishes the club's overall defensive scheme with Defensive Coordinator and secondary coach Tom Bettis and linebacker coach Rudy Feldman.

Last year the defense under Peters and his fellow defensive coaches did not allow a 100-yard game by an opposing running back all season. A unit with seven of the eleven starters having three or less years experience, Peters' young defense benefited from his drive and discipline.

His second season in St. Louis will be Peters' tenth as an NFL assistant. He spent an eleventh as a player coach under Vince Lombardi with the Washington Redskins in 1970. He joined the Cardinals last year from Detroit where he served as the Lions defensive line coach from 1978 through 1981.

He was the first assistant hired by head coach Monte Clark at Detroit. Peters lived up to that distinction by creating the Detroit "Silver Rush" defensive line which set a club record with 55 quarterback sacks in his first year as coach. In the following three seasons the Lions registered 44, 44, and 45 sacks to rank among the conference leaders.

Peters joined the Lions from Clark's staff at San Francisco, where he coached the defensive line in 1976 and 1977. There he gained recognition for building the 49er "Gold Rush" front four in his first year. That unit led the NFL in sacking the quarterback with 61 in 1976.

His first full-time pro coaching position was with the New York Giants in 1974, a position he held for two years.

During his 12-year playing career, Peters was elected to the Pro Bowl three times (1964, '66, '67) as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles. He began his playing career as an eighth-round draft choice of Baltimore in 1958. He played for Cleveland (1959-62) and Detroit (1963) before joining the Eagles in 1964. He remained with Philadelphia until 1970, when he concluded his career as a player-coach with Washington.

His college career as a defensive tackle and guard took place at San Francisco State. For one season following graduation, prior to being drafted by Baltimore, he played semi-pro football for the Salinas Packers in Salinas, Calif. where he was a teammate and roommate of Jim Hanifan.

Born May 21, 1936 in Council Bluffs, Iowa, Peters and his wife Nancy have four sons; Craig, Kelly, Dean and Allen.

ROD DOWHOWER — Offensive Coordinator

With the addition of Rod Dowhower as Offensive Coordinator, Head Coach Jim Hanifan's coaching staff has acquired the final link to complete the chain of command he wants. After delegating the overall defensive duties to Assistant Head Coach Floyd Peters, the acquisition of Dowhower allows Hanifan to delegate duties and direct the overall operation.

Dowhower, one of the brightest offensive minds in the league, plans some new wrinkles in the Cardinal offense with more emphasis being placed on motion. His duties will be comprehensive, including that of calling the offensive plays. While coordinating the overall Cardinal offensive scheme, he will be working particularly with the quarterbacks.

Dowhower joined the Cardinals January 26 from the Denver Broncos where he was the offensive coordinator and coached that club's receivers for three years. Along with Hanifan, he first came to St. Louis in 1973 for his initial NFL coaching position on Don Coryell's staff. Dowhower has a varied background in offensive football having been a part of and a contributor to the offenses of such successful coaches as Coryell, Dick Vermeil, Bill Walsh and Dan Reeves in his brief career.

He served as the head coach at Stanford in 1979 where he posted a 5-5-1 record, after having been named offensive coordinator for the school in 1977-78. He was the offensive coordinator at Boise State as well in 1976. After one year in St. Louis ('73), he left the Cardinals in 1974 to take the role of offensive coordinator at UCLA.

He began his collegiate coaching career at San Diego State in 1966, where he was a quarterback coach for two years and the offensive coordinator for another five. He developed three NFL quarterbacks, Brian Sipe, Dennis Shaw and Don Horn.

He was named small college All-American quarterback in 1964 at San Diego State, where he first came under the influence of his coach, Don Coryell. He spent two years on the San Francisco 49ers inactive list after his college career was over before returning to coach at San Diego State in 1966.

Born April 15, 1943, Dowhower and his wife Nancy have two sons; Brian and Deron.

CHUCK BANKER — Special Teams and Assistant Defensive Coach

The Cardinals special teams units coached by Chuck Banker continued to show improvement in 1982 despite their excellent performance the year before. Punter Carl Birdsong developed into one of the league's best punters under Banker while leading the NFC last year.

During the offseason Banker was assigned additional duties as an Assistant Defensive Coach. Along with his special teams duties, he will assist the defensive staff this year in each of their areas.

Banker enters his fourth year with Big Red. He began his pro coaching career in St. Louis in 1980 from Boise State. He was the linebacker coach and defensive coordinator there from 1976 to 1979, capping his stay with a year in which his defense led its conference in fewest points allowed during a 10-1 season.

Banker began his coaching career at Glendale Junior College in 1962, coaching alongside Jim Hanifan. He remained at Glendale until 1966, moving to the University of Utah for two years where he again coached with Hanifan as the linebacker coach. From 1968 through 1970 he coached at Westminster College, including one year as the head man. He then returned to Utah in 1971, succeeding Jim Hanifan as an offensive coach. He also met and coached with Big Red assistant Tom Lovat at Utah in 1972 before leaving for Vjewmont High School in Salt Lake City in 1974. Two years later he joined the Boise State staff.

PETERS

DOWHOWER

Banker's playing career was cut short by a knee injury in 1960 while playing linebacker and tight end for Pasadena City College.

Born on March 12, 1941 in Prescott, Arizona, Banker and his wife Karen have three children; Christy (10), Sara (8) and Bryan (5).

TOM BETTIS — Defensive Coordinator

This year will be Tom Bettis' sixth year as the club's defensive coordinator and second as its coach of the secondary. Bettis will again have the job of coordinating the club's overall pass coverages, while working with Floyd Peters on the overall defensive scheme.

A bright spot in the Cardinal secondary for Bettis last year was rookie free safety Benny Perrin who started all 9 games and earned NFL All-Rookie honors. And he will have another group of promising rookies in 1983, including the club's top two draft picks.

Last year was Bettis' first as Big Red secondary coach, but it was not a new challenge. Before coaching the Cardinal linebackers the four previous years, Bettis earned his reputation as an excellent secondary coach with the Kansas City Chiefs for 12 years. He joined the Big Red from Kansas City in 1978.

While with the Chiefs, Bettis' secondaries led the AFC in interceptions five consecutive years (1966-70) as well as in 1974. A mainstay of those secondaries was Big Red coach Emmitt Thomas, whom Bettis converted from a receiver to an All-Pro cornerback. The Chiefs won one of the two Super Bowls in which they played during his stay, along with winning two AFC titles and making the playoffs two other seasons.

Tom began his NFL coaching career in 1966. Prior to that he was in private business after retiring as an active player in 1963, as a member of the world champion Chicago Bears. His playing career began as a number one draft choice of Green Bay in 1955. He was a starting linebacker with the Packers until 1961, helping them win a championship. In 1962 he was traded to Pittsburgh before joining Chicago in 1963.

Bettis was an All-American linebacker and offensive guard at Purdue in 1953 and 1954. He was named All-Big Ten both years as well as in 1952. He finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy voting his final year, and first among all linemen.

He served as a pro scout during 1964 and 1965 before entering the pro coaching ranks under Hank Stram.

Born March 17, 1933, Bettis and his wife Valerie have three daughters, Lisa (26), Karen (24), and Krista (19).

DON BROWN — Flexibility and Strength

Entering his fifth year as flexibility and strength coach, Don Brown is responsible for the Cardinals season and offseason conditioning programs. Since joining the club in 1978 he has upgraded the team's program through new techniques and equipment.

He is the third successive strength and conditioning coach from Butler, Penn., to serve the Cardinals in this capacity. Brown studied under Paul Uram, one of the pioneers in the field who worked for years in the same capacity with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Before joining the Cardinals, Brown was an assistant coach for Wake Forest while attending graduate school at his alma mater. During his undergraduate years he played outside linebacker and was voted the team's most valuable player in his senior season of 1972.

Brown, 32, holds a master's degree in Business Administration as well as a B.S. degree in mathematics and an M.A. in counseling. He is also attending law school. He is a graduate of Butler High in that Pennsylvania city.

He and his wife Terri are expecting their first child later this year.

RUDY FELDMAN — Linebackers

The 1982 season was Rudy Feldman's first as a linebacker coach in the NFL, but it didn't show in the results. He took a very young group of linebackers and they accomplished their share of the Big Red's overall defensive improvement. Rudy's starting linebackers, in fact, ranked 1-2-3 on the team in tackles and helped prevent any opposing running back from rushing for 100 yards on the Cardinals all season.

Feldman will again coach the linebacking corps in 1983, and put together the overall defensive package with Floyd Peters and Tom Bettis. He is in his sixth year with the Cardinals after coaching the defensive line for the first four seasons.

He first joined the Cardinals in 1978, from the San Diego Chargers. He was the Chargers' defensive line coach for three years (1974-76) and in charge of the offensive line in 1977. He was brought to St. Louis by Bud Wilkinson, with whom he coached at the University of Oklahoma for five years (1958-62).

He began his coaching career in the college ranks as an assistant at Iowa State in 1957 before going to Oklahoma. He later joined the Colorado staff as the top assistant in 1963 and remained until 1968 when he became the head coach at New Mexico. He held that position through 1973, at which time he entered the NFL with San Diego.

Feldman, 51, played offensive guard for UCLA from 1950 through 1953. In his final season he was the captain of the team which finished 8-1 and played Michigan State in the 1954 Rose Bowl.

The San Francisco native was born May 18, 1932. He and his wife Joanne have two sons, Kirk (25) and Kent (22) and one daughter, Lisa (18).

ASSISTANT COACHES

DICK JAMIESON — Offensive Backfield

Beginning his fourth season in charge of the Big Red backs, Dick Jamieson's group showed their depth in 1982. Injuries and the advent of the shotgun brought added challenges.

Jamieson joined the Cardinals in February of 1980 off the campus of Indiana State, where he had served as the head coach for two years (1978-79). In that span he turned a 3-8 record into an 8-3 season.

He had earned a good reputation as an offensive coach and had become familiar with the Cardinals while serving as the offensive coordinator at the University of Missouri from 1972 through 1977. Prior to joining the college ranks, he coached high school football for six years, compiling a 40-19-1 record at Peoria Central High.

As a football player at Bradley, Jamieson led the nation's small colleges in total offense as a quarterback. A great athlete, Jamieson then signed a pro baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates before returning to football in 1959 with Baltimore as a backup to Johnny Unitas. He joined the New York Titans of the AFL in 1960. A back injury forced him to temporarily retire, so he returned to Bradley as a coach for three years (1962-64).

Jamieson made a comeback in 1965, signing with the Houston Oilers as a backup to yet another great quarterback, George Blanda. He retired permanently in 1966.

A native of Peoria, Ill., Jamieson was born on November 13, 1937. He and his wife Rosalie have three children; Jeff (25), Tim (23) and Judy (19).

TOM LOVAT — Offensive Line

In 1982 Tom Lovat faced the task of molding an offensive line with two rookies at the tackles, Tootie Robbins and Luis Sharpe, and veteran Dan Dierdorf in a new position at center. He managed to bond the two levels of experience into a solid unit, while both youngsters made the NFL All-Rookie team.

Lovat begins his third season with the Big Red and fourth in the NFL after joining the club from the Green Bay Packers. He began his pro coaching career as the assistant line coach with the Packers, working with former Cardinal offensive tackle Ernie McMillan in 1980. He was quickly hired in 1981 by Jim Hanifan, who recommended him for the Green Bay position, having coached with him at Utah in 1967.

Tom joined the Packers from Stanford University, where he was the offensive line coach from 1977 through 1979. Prior to that he coached his second stint at Utah, beginning in 1972 as the defensive line coach. He was named head coach in 1974, a position he held for three seasons before going to Stanford.

In 1971 Lovat was a defensive coach for Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League. From 1968 through 1970 he served on the staff at Idaho State, following his first coaching job at Utah in 1967.

After graduating from the University of Utah in 1961, Lovat coached high school football for six years. While an undergraduate at Utah he played basketball and football.

Lovat was born on December 28, 1938 in Bingham, Utah. He and his wife Lyn have three children; Johna (19), Mathew (16) and Mark (13).

LEON McLAUGHLIN — Special Assistant to the Head Coach

One of the keys to what the Cardinals do on the field is what Leon McLaughlin accomplishes off of it. For the sixth year, his job will be scouting the Cardinals' opponents, their tendencies and personnel and breaking down all the data via computer and game film for use in the Big Red's game plan.

He has been in the coaching and scouting profession for more than 20 years. His professional background began with Pittsburgh in 1966. After three years with the Steelers, McLaughlin was named the head coach at San Fernando State University in 1969. He remained there through 1971 before becoming an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams, the team he played for in the NFL.

In 1973 he joined the staff at Detroit, coaching the offensive line for two seasons. He moved on to Green Bay and Bart Starr's staff in 1975 for two more years before going to New England in 1977.

Leon's collegiate coaching career began at Washington State in 1956 as an assistant. He coached high school football in 1957 and 1958; then returned to Stanford for seven years (1959-1965).

Born May 30, 1925, McLaughlin has three sons and a daughter.

EMMITT THOMAS — Receivers

With two years experience as the Cardinals receivers coach, and with Rod Dowhower focusing on the quarterbacks and the overall offense, Emmitt Thomas' responsibility with the wide receivers and tight ends becomes more involved.

Thomas is in his third year with the Cardinals and third as an NFL assistant coach after 13 outstanding seasons as a player.

Prior to joining the Cardinal staff in 1981, Thomas was the defensive backfield coach at Central Missouri State University since his retirement as a player in 1978.

Thomas began his pro career as a free agent wide receiver with Kansas City in 1966 out of Bishop College. He was converted to cornerback by Big Red defensive coordinator Tom Bettis, then the defensive backfield coach of the Chiefs. Thomas went on to set the all-time Kansas City interception record with 58 in his career. He led the Chiefs in thefts five times and was one of only seven players in NFL history to lead the entire league in interceptions twice in a career (1969 and 1974).

He played in four Pro Bowls and two Super Bowls with Kansas City, intercepting a pass in the Chiefs' victory over Minnesota in Super Bowl IV.

Thomas was born on June 3, 1943. He and his wife Dianne have two children; Derek (16) and Dedra (10).

GEORGE BOONE, Director of Player Personnel

The man in charge of the Cardinals scouting and drafting operations, George Boone, owns perhaps the most successful record in the league in recent years. He is in his 11th year as the Director.

The head of a six-man staff in charge of the club's scouting department, Boone has been with the club since 1968 when he was hired as the assistant personnel director. He was elevated to Director of Player Personnel in 1973.

In addition to coordinating and overseeing the club's scouting procedures, Boone also manages the Cardinal's participation with the United Scouting Combine, a personnel organization utilized by numerous NFL teams in pooling scouting reports.

Boone began his NFL personnel career in 1966 as a scout with the Central-Eastern Professional Organization (CEPO), a scouting combine also used by NFL teams.

George, 43, is a native of Louisville, Kentucky and an alumnus of the University of Kentucky. As a college player there he was a three-year starter at offensive and defensive tackle from 1957 to 1959. Following graduation, he served as an assistant football coach from 1960 to 1965. He holds a Bachelor's and Master's degree in education from Kentucky.

He and his wife Dedee have four daughters and a son.

BO BOLINGER, Scout

Bo Bolinger is one of the most experienced of the Cardinal scouts, having been with the club since 1971 as one of its first full-time player personnel professionals.

Prior to joining the Big Red, Bolinger coached on the collegiate level for 11 years and spent two seasons as the offensive line coach for the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Oklahoma in 1955, following his playing days there. After a stop on the high school level, he held the position of offensive and defensive line coach at Denver University from 1958 to 1960. For the next two years (1961-62) he was the defensive coordinator at Tulsa. He was the offensive and defensive coordinator at New Mexico (1963-67) and defensive coordinator for Utah State (1968) before entering the Canadian league.

As a player at Oklahoma, Bolinger was an All-American in 1955 and two-time all-conference guard.

Bo, 50, and his wife Barbara reside in Tempe, Arizona.

LAIR*PARKER*MATT LAIR, Scout

Matt Lair joined the club's scouting department in 1974 from the Central-Eastern Professional Scouting organization. He has reached ten years of service with the club in 1983.

With nearly 30 years of football coaching and scouting experience, Lair joined the Cardinals after working at CEPO for six years (1968-1973). Prior to that he spent 15 years as an assistant coach in the college ranks with Kentucky, Texas A&M and Texas Tech.

As an undergraduate he played linebacker and guard at Kentucky, which he attended from 1941 to 1942 and again in 1946 and 1947.

Born in Paris, Kentucky, Lair, 57, and his wife Helen now live in Danville, Ky.

ACE PARKER, Scout

Clarence "Ace" Parker joined the Big Red scouting department in 1976, four years after being elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Parker, 68, played in both the NFL and the National Baseball League. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1972.

Called one of the last of the great triple-threat stars in professional football, Parker was an all purpose offensive and defensive back with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1937-41, the Boston Yanks in 1945 and the New York Yankees of the All-American Football Conference in 1946.

As a member of the 1939 Brooklyn Dodgers, Parker played in the first televised professional football game ever, on Oct. 22 vs. Philadelphia. Parker threw a touchdown pass in the 23-14 victory.

Parker is a member of five Halls of Fame including Duke University, North Carolina, Virginia and the National Collegiate Athletic Association Hall of Fame along with the NFL honors. He had been an All-American tailback at Duke in 1936 and was the Brooklyn Dodgers' first draft choice in 1937. Because he had signed a baseball contract with the Philadelphia Athletics, he didn't report to the Dodgers until midway into the football season. In his first full season in 1938, he gained all-NFL honors, decided to stay in football and turned down a baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1940 before a service call interrupted his career in 1941. He returned to the game for the 1945 and 1946 seasons to complete career totals of 498 rushing yards and 14 TDs on 148 attempts and 335 completions in 718 passing attempts for 4701 yards and 30 TDs.

He and his wife Thelma live in his native town of Portsmouth, Va.

GILMER

HARRY GILMER, Scout

After spending 25 years in the NFL coaching ranks, Harry Gilmer retired from that profession following the 1982 season and resumed his new role with the team, as a scout.

He has done a great deal of scouting in his career, both in his early days of coaching when it was part of his duties as well as with the Cardinals later in his career before the club's scouting department was fully developed. His experience in evaluating and developing talent enhances the club's scouting operations.

Gilmer, 57, began his coaching and scouting career with Pittsburgh in 1957. He joined the Minnesota Vikings for four years in 1961 before being named head coach of Detroit in 1965. Two years later he came to the Cardinals for the first of his two tenures. He became the Big Red's quarterback coach in 1967.

He left for the same position in Atlanta in 1970, only to return and complete his coaching career with the Big Red from 1975 through last season.

Gilmer was an outstanding college and professional quarterback. He was the first player taken in the 1948 NFL draft by Washington after a brilliant career at Alabama as an All-American. He earned All-Pro honors in 1950 and 1952, prior to retiring as a player in 1956.

Harry and his wife Katherine have a son, three daughters and four grandchildren.

STAN WEST, Scout

Stan West enters his 19th year as a Football Cardinal scout, the senior member of the department in terms of seniority. He joined the club in 1965 from Minnesota, where he was an assistant coach.

During his college career at the University of Oklahoma, West was an All-American lineman in 1949 and was Los Angeles' first draft choice in 1950. He was named to the Pro Bowl in only his second season with the Rams as a member of the 1951 L.A. squad which defeated Cleveland for the world championship. He made a return trip to the Pro Bowl in 1952. After five years as a starter at linebacker for the Rams, he played for the New York Giants in 1955 and the Chicago Cardinals in 1956-57. After three seasons as an assistant coach of the Minnesota Vikings (1961-63), West stayed out of football for a year, but returned in 1965 to join the Cardinal staff.

A Norman, Okla., resident, he and his wife, Mary Frances, have two sons — Tom, 29, and Ted, 25.

OMOHUNDRO*SHEARER*FLEMING

JOHN OMOHUNDRO, Head Trainer

The Cardinals Head Trainer for the 13th year is John Omohundro. He also begins his 16th season treating Big Red players.

Omohundro earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from the University of Wyoming, in addition to 26 hours of graduate work. He began his career of treating athletes in 1961 at the College of Southern Utah, where he served as the head trainer. He joined the University of Wyoming staff in 1962 as a student assistant trainer and remained there through 1967. When he left he was a graduate assistant trainer. He joined the Cardinal's staff in 1967 at the age of 24.

John, 40, is a native of Salt Lake City, Utah. He received a special service award from the St. Louis Quarterback Club in 1978 as a tribute to his dedication to the team. He and his wife Martha have two sons; Johnny, 9, and Jimmy, 7 and a two-year-old daughter, Neeley.

JIM SHEARER, Assistant Trainer

Completing one decade as a trainer with the Big Red this year is Jim Shearer. The club's assistant trainer, Shearer begins his tenth year with the club. He joined the Cardinals in 1974.

Shearer holds a bachelors degree in physical education from the University of Wyoming in 1972.

He initiated his professional career in '72 in Gillette, Wyoming as the city's assistant recreation director and the head trainer for Gillette High School, during 1972 and 1973. He then returned to the University of Wyoming to do graduate work and serve as a graduate assistant trainer in 1973 and '74. Later that year he joined the Football Cardinal staff.

Jim is a native of Worland, Wyoming. He and his wife Nelma have one son, Christopher, 6, and one daughter, Sarah, 2.

ED FLEMING, Assistant Trainer

The training staff welcomed the addition of Ed Fleming at the start of the 1982 season as an assistant trainer. He had worked for the Cardinals on a part-time basis at training and mini-camp for the past four years prior to joining the staff full-time last fall.

Fleming came to the Cardinals from Hazelwood East High School in St. Louis, where he was a trainer and a teacher. He earned his degree in physical education from the University of Missouri-St. Louis. Fleming, 31, is a native of St. Louis and graduate of Riverview Gardens High. He is single.

SIMMONS

AHLEMEIER

BILL SIMMONS, Equipment Manager

Everything a player or coach wears during a practice or game, from shoe laces to shoulder pads, is organized, distributed, maintained and accounted for by Bill Simmons, the Big Red's Equipment Manager for the 18th year.

No one packs more for a road game or training camp than the equipment department. Simmons has kept pace with the increasing amount, complexity and quality of equipment the Cardinals use during the season since his first days on the job in 1966. Prior to joining the club, Simmons taught school at Ferguson Junior High in St. Louis. At the same time he coached and officiated high school sports for 18 years.

Bill, 58, is a veteran of both World War II and the Korean War. Between stints in the service Simmons earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Northeast Missouri State University.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Bill and his wife Katie have five children and five grandchildren. Their eldest son, Dan, is following in his father's footsteps, now in his 11th year as the Equipment Manager of the New Orleans Saints.

MARK AHLEMEIER, Assistant Equipment Manager

Mark Ahlemeier is in his third year as the assistant in the equipment room, having joined the team in 1981.

The 25-year-old native of St. Charles, Mo. attended Ritenour High and Florissant Valley College in St. Louis. He is single.

Athlemeier enters his third year with the club in his first position with a professional sports organization. His responsibilities include maintaining the club's inventory of all equipment, its physical appearance and proper working condition.

Running Back

Miami (Fla.)

5th Year

Ht: 6-2

Wt: 222

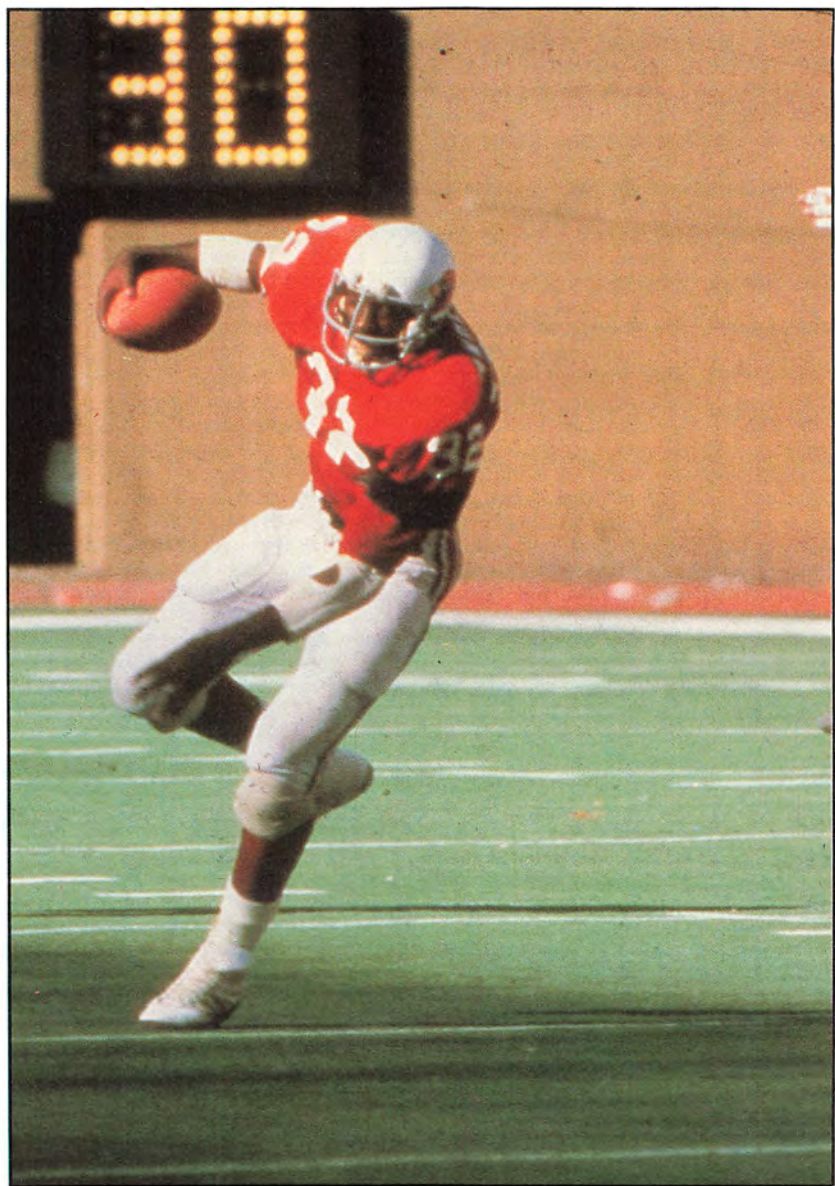

Born: 1/19/57

Acquisition: First-round draft choice in 1979.

1982 SEASON: Was on the pace for another 1,000 yard year in the shortened season, finishing with 587 yards . . . Ranked fourth in the NFC in rushing despite missing one game (Philadelphia Dec. 5) . . . Was only 52 yards shy of ranking second in the conference . . . Set the all-time Cardinal record for most career carries in the game against San Francisco, breaking Jim Otis' mark of 1,011 . . . Finished the year with 1,105 career rushes . . . His 587 yards adds to his existing club record rushing total, bringing his figures to 4,920 yards in four years . . . Added three 100-yard games to his club-record total, giving him 22 . . . Still ranks as the leading rusher in the NFC during the time he's been in the league (O.J. 4,920; Payton 4,888; Dorsett 4,683) . . . Is second in the NFL (Campbell 5,545) . . . Went over the 6,000-yard mark in career combined net yards last year (6,029) with 106 yards on 14 receptions in addition to his rushing totals . . . The leading force in the team's ranking third in the NFC in rushing offense last year . . . Again proved very durable . . . Medical tests done to assure his safety following pains suffered after Atlanta game caused him to sit out the next game against the Eagles . . . Was the first game and first start he has missed in his career, breaking a string of 52 straight . . . Showed he was anxious to get back in the lineup when he went 64 yards on his first carry against Washington the next week . . . It was his longest run of the season . . . Finished with 109 yards on 15 carries vs. the Redskins Dec. 12, for his second 100-yard game in a row, having gained 122 yards on 20 carries in Atlanta Nov. 28 . . . Made it three out of four by gaining 110 yards in the playoff clinching game against the Giants two weeks later . . . Was named the offensive player of the game vs. New York . . . In that game carried the ball 30 times for only the third time in his career, all of which have come against the Giants . . . He now has more 100 yard games against New York than any other team (4) and has rushed for more career yards against N.Y. than any opponent (758 in 7 games for an average of 108 per game) . . . His strong finish in the regular season carried into the playoffs . . . He had gained 58 yards when an ankle sprain midway in the second quarter forced him to leave the contest in Green Bay . . . For the season, he scored three touchdowns rushing, moving him into third place in team history with 29 in his career; behind teammate Wayne Morris (35) and John David Crow (34) . . . Now holds six club rushing records . . . Needs only 80 yards to reach the 5,000-yard mark in his career . . . Games Played: 8. Starts: 8.

PRO CAREER: With his third straight 1,000-yard season in as many years, O.J. became the club's all-time leading rusher in 1981 . . . Ran for 1,376 yards, fifth best in the NFC and also the NFL . . . Surpassed Jim Otis' team record of 3,863 career yards . . . Carried the ball more than 300 times (328) for the third consecutive season in '81 . . . Averaged 4.2 yards per carry, with his longest run of the season being only 28 yards vs. Washington . . . Rushed for nine touchdowns . . . Posted four 100-yard games . . . In the second half of the '81 season there wasn't a running back in the NFL who rushed for more yards, as O.J. averaged 102 yards per game in the final eight weeks for a total of 820 yards . . . As a receiver, he set a new club record for a running back by catching 51 passes in '81 . . . He was voted the game Most Valuable Player in the 20-17 win over Dallas Oct. 4 . . . Repeated the award for his record-breaking, season-high rushing performance (177) in the victory over Buffalo and was then voted Offensive Player of the Game the following week when he rushed for 130 yards . . . Ranked second on the team in scoring with 54 points . . . In the history of the team, there have been only five 1,000-yard seasons by running backs and Anderson has three of them . . . Broke into the NFL by rushing for 193 yards in his debut, vs. Dallas in 1979, which remains the best single game of his career . . . It is also one yard shy of the NFL record for a rookie debut held by Alan Ameche . . . Went on to gain 1,605 yards his rookie year, which set a new NFL rookie rushing record at the time, since broken by George Rogers in 1981 with 1,674 . . . Also set a league record for most 100-yard games by a rookie (9), which Rogers tied . . . Was voted All-Pro and consensus NFL Rookie of the Year, the first Cardinal to win the honor since John Roland in 1966 . . . Ht: 6-4

Born: 10/16/53

Acquisition: First-round draft choice in 1976.

1982 SEASON: The steady veteran got off to a terrific start . . . Named the game MVP in the season opening win at New Orleans by virtue of his two sacks for 18 yards and eight tackles . . . Nearly matched that superb effort the next week with 1½ sacks and five tackles against Dallas, giving him 3½ sacks in two games, which ranked him in the top three in the NFC at strike time . . . According to coach Hanifan, the strike hurt Dawson more than perhaps any player on the team, since he was coming on strong after a sub-par 1981 season . . . Finished the year with those 3½ sacks for 26 yards and 38 tackles . . . Also batted down one pass . . . Intercepted the first pass of his career in the victory in Atlanta, after Curtis Greer batted it up in the air . . . Center

Michigan

12th Year

Ht: 6-3

Wt: 290

Born: 6/29/49

Acquisition: Second-round draft choice in 1971.

1982 SEASON: After anchoring the offensive line at right tackle for 10 years, most of them as a Pro Bowl performer, 1982 became a turning point in his career with the move to center . . . Switch was made in training camp, when Tootie Robbins blossomed as a possible RT replacement . . . Move was designed to neutralize bigger nose tackles in the 3-4 defenses, which Dierdorf's ability and 290-plus pounds could do, as well as probably prolong his career . . . Shortly after changing positions, he suffered a strained knee in a scrimmage with Kansas City and missed three of the four preseason games, forcing him to enter the season at the position with no experience . . . Adapted extremely well, including making snaps in shotgun . . . Started every game, getting better each week . . . Made only bad shotgun snap of the season in Washington Jan. 2 . . . After taking shotgun snaps from him at a Saturday practice, Roger Staubach rated them the best he's seen personally . . . Voted one of the offensive co-captains again in '82 . . . Moved into second place on the club's all-time list of games played by an offensive lineman . . . Passed Ken Gray's total of 152 in the last game and with 153 games now trails only Ernie McMillan at 178 . . . With the retirement of Roger Wehrli and Mel Gray, he is second on the club in terms of experience to Jim Hart, the only two in double figures . . . Received a game ball in Atlanta and shared MVP and offensive star honors as well . . . Games Played: 9. Starts: 9.

PRO CAREER: Started every game at right tackle in 1981 . . . Was again the standout on the offensive line . . . Was voted the Offensive Lineman of the Game in the victory over Dallas . . . Native of Canton, Ohio where he will likely return for Hall of Fame ceremonies one day . . . Coming off of extensive knee surgery, in his ninth year, he exceeded all expectations by being voted All-Pro for the sixth time in 1980 . . . Started all 16 games at right tackle . . . Named to the 1980 All-NFL team by AP, Pro Football Writers, and Newspaper Enterprise . . . Voted All-NFC second team by UPI . . . Named Offensive Star by coaches vs. Philadelphia Sept. 28 . . . Received Offensive Lineman Award on two other occasions . . . Also received game ball in victory over the Lions . . . Voted offensive co-captain for 1980 . . . Presented his former offensive line coach, Jim Hanifan, with the game ball following the head coach's first NFL victory against Philadelphia . . . Suffered dislocated knee and torn ligaments in second game of 1979 vs. the Giants blocking for an extra point and was lost for the year . . . In addition to being named All-Pro each of the five seasons before the injury (1974-78), Dierdorf was voted by the players the top offensive lineman in the NFL for three consecutive years (1976-78) . . . Named All-NFL five straight years (1974-78) . . . Voted to the NFL Team of the Decade for the '70's . . . Has been the leader and cornerstone of the offensive line which allowed the fewest QB sacks in the NFL three times, and the fewest in the NFC five times . . . He and his line-mates set an NFL record by allowing only eight sacks in 1975 . . . Did not miss a game during his first six years until a broken jaw in 1977 forced him out of two.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Named to seven All-America teams as senior tackle at Michigan . . . Two-time All-Big Ten selection . . . Played in East-West, Hula Bowl, Coaches All-America and College All-Star games . . . Was named Amateur Athlete of the Year in Michigan in 1970 . . . Has served as chairman for St. Louis Easter Seals; is on the Board of Trustees for Cystic Fibrosis and also is actively involved with Multiple Sclerosis Society and the March of Dimes . . . Was given Chuck Drulis Award following 1980 season for his civic achievements . . . Is a year-round sportscaster for KMOX (CBS) Radio . . . Born and raised in Canton, Ohio, where he attended Glenwood High . . . Made his acting debut in "Stuckey's Last Stand", a film about a summer camp; and in a television commercial for soft drink which is parody of Joe Greene's famous soda TV commercial: in this version a young boy turns down an offer for Dierdorf's jersey and asks for his soda . . . Lives in St. Louis with wife Debbie and has three children; Dan, Kristen and Dana Lynn . . . Participated in clinics for women on how to understand football . . . Is a co-owner of Dierdorf & Hart's Steak House in Westport.

VETERANS

Wide Receiver

Henderson State

5th Year

Ht: 6-0

Wt: 195

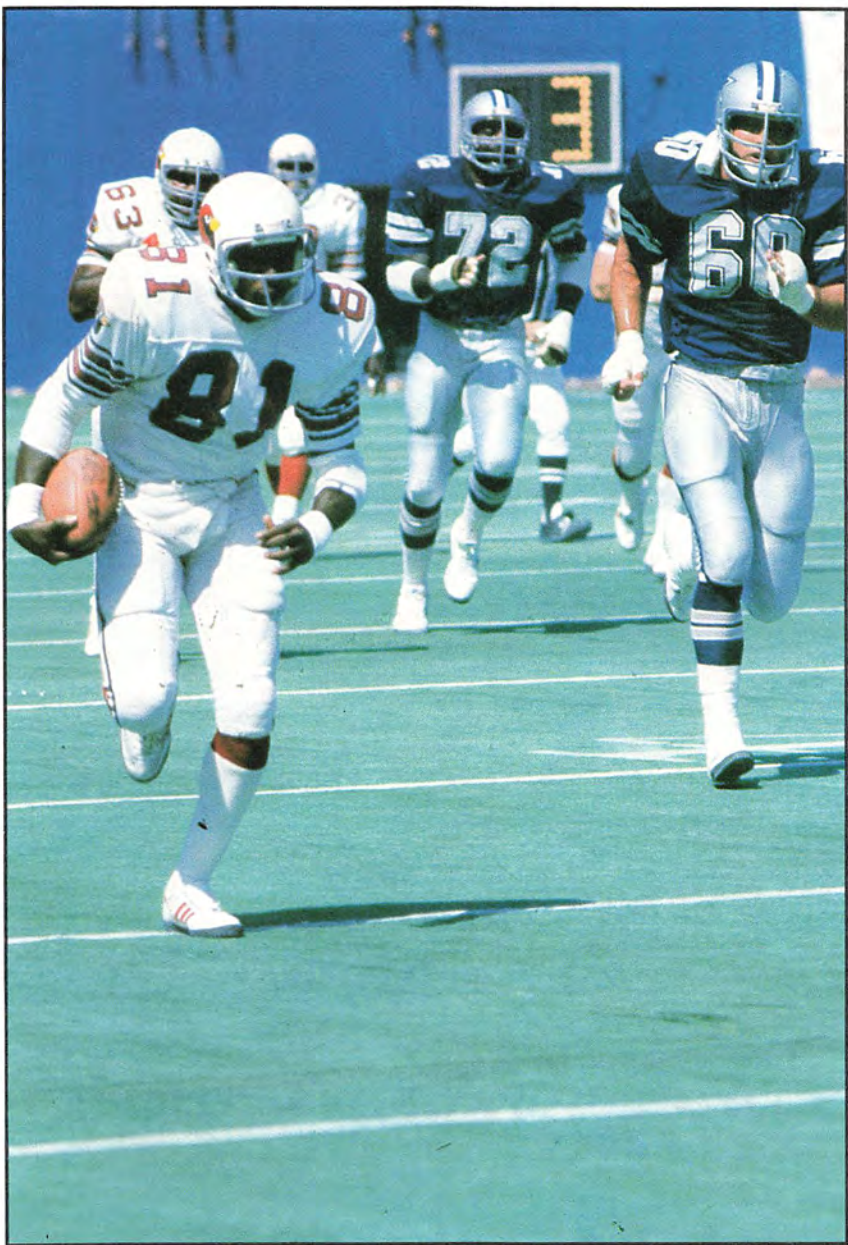

Born: 6/30/57

Acquisition: Fourth-round draft choice in 1979.

1982 SEASON: Following his nonpareil season of 1981 in which he played both ways, Green concentrated solely on wide receiver last year and had a fine season, his first year as a full-time receiver . . . Took Mel Gray's place in the starting lineup and as the club's deep threat . . . Started all nine games . . . Finished second on the team in receiving with 32 catches for 454 yards (14.2) . . . Led in touchdown receptions with three . . . Best game came against Dallas with 10 receptions for 170 yards, both single game highs for him, which were also single game highs on the team in '82 . . . Caught the dramatic game-winning and playoff-clinching touchdown pass with :27 left against the Giants when the club drove 70 yards in less than a minute to win . . . Started the drive with a 26-yard reception to put the ball in Giant territory . . . Also caught a touchdown pass in the first half of that game . . . Finished with four catches for 66 yards and two TDs . . . His other TD came on a spectacular over-the-shoulder grab vs. San Francisco . . . Ran with the ball six times on reverses or fake punts for eight yards and attempted one pass . . . Also returned three punts for 20 yards . . . Played the up-back in punt formation and picked up two first downs on fake punts, one in a playoff game . . . In that playoff game at Green Bay, he caught nine passes for 113 yards, for the third 100-yard game of his career . . . One of the fastest players on the team . . . Made five tackles on special teams . . . Has excellent hands . . . Games Played: 9. Starts: 9.

PRO CAREER: Turned in the most unique season in the NFL in 1981 . . . Was the first authentic two-way performer in the league in more than two decades . . . Began the year as the fifth defensive back . . . Was inserted as a surprise WR at Dallas in game two and caught a 60-yard pass on his first play (it was the second reception of his career, the first coming on a fake punt in 1979) . . . Made history and headlines the next week when, as a starting WR against Washington, caught four passes for 115 yards, including a 58-yard touchdown . . . Was voted by coaches the Offensive Player of the Game after the win and was awarded a game ball . . . Made history by also intercepting a Joe Theismann pass on defense, becoming the first player in league history to catch a TD pass and intercept a pass in the same game since Eddie Sutton of Washington did it on Dec. 8, 1957 . . . In that game he was on the field for a total of 99 plays, on offense, defense and four different special teams . . . Two weeks later, he was again the Offensive Player of the game when he caught five passes for 89 yards, including a spectacular one-handed grab in the back of the end zone to help defeat Dallas . . . Received another game ball for that game . . . Vs. Minnesota Oct. 25 he caught three passes for 69 yards on offense and broke up five passes on defense . . . Played in every game, but started only two . . . For the year he caught a pass and intercepted a pass in the same game three times (vs. Washington Sept. 20, Buffalo Nov. 15, and New Orleans Dec. 6) . . . Was voted the game MVP on two other occasions vs. New England, and vs. New Orleans the very next week . . . Against the Saints he caught one pass for 28 yards, intercepted one pass and returned it 29 yards, broke up another pass, and put the game away in the fourth quarter by running 44 yards for a touchdown on a fake punt . . . Was voted by his teammates as the club's Most Valuable Player for 1981 . . . He led the team in touchdown receptions with four . . . Caught 33 passes for 708 yards . . . He led the NFC in yards per catch with a 21.4 average . . . His 30 points on 5 touchdowns ranked third on the team . . . 1982 SEASON: The future Hall of Famer played a new role last year, that of adviser and reliever to Neil Lomax, and was very productive . . . In addition to the sideline help he offered, Hart helped the Cardinals to one victory (Chicago) and, calling on his old last-minute magic, almost pulled another game out of the fire . . . Saw his first action against San Francisco in the third game, completing eight of 11 passes for 72 yards in the fourth quarter . . . Down 12-0 to Washington Dec. 12 he entered the game in the fourth quarter and drove the club 63 yards, throwing a touchdown pass for the team's only score . . . Played most of the fourth quarter against Chicago . . . Completed four of nine passes and directed the club into position for the game-winning field goal in the final seconds . . . His other game was against New York, when he attempted one pass . . . Ranks as the leading active passer in the NFL in attempts, (4,978) completions (2,540) and yards (34,047) . . . Ranks second in touchdown passes to Terry Bradshaw with 205 . . . Still ranks third in league history in attempts, completions and yards and ranks ninth in touchdown passes . . . Sets the Cardinal record for most seasons played this year, with his 18th, breaking the tie with Jim Bakken . . . Is six games shy of 200 in his career . . . Ranks third in club history (194) to Jackie Smith's 198 and Bakken's 234 . . . Needs 22 pass attempts to reach 5,000 . . . 1982 stats were 19 completions in 33 attempts (57.5%) for 199 yards, one TD and no interceptions . . . Games Played: 4. Starts: 0.

PRO CAREER: Enjoyed a highly productive 16th season . . . Began on a portentous note, when Hart suffered a bruised knee in opening quarter of the year . . . He missed the remainder of that game and all of the next one . . . Against Washington Sept. 20 he led the team to its first win of the season, 40-30, by throwing three touchdown passes . . . Was voted the game's Most Valuable Player and awarded a game ball . . . The 40 points were the most allowed by the Redskins in 11 years . . . On the same day he added to his laurels by jumping past former Redskin Sonny Jurgensen into third place on the all-time NFL list for yards passing, after beginning the season in fourth place with 32,154

Attempted 49 passes vs. Atlanta Oct. 18, tying his single game career high (completed 24 for 263 yards) . . . Reached a significant milestone the following game vs. Minnesota when he threw two TD passes in directing the club to a 30-17 victory . . . The two scoring passes gave him 200 for his career, a summit reached by only nine other quarterbacks in NFL history . . . His 300-yards passing in Washington was the 15th such game of his career and the only one of 1981 . . . His 1981 stats were 134 completions on 241 attempts for a percentage of 55.6, the second highest percentage of his career . . . Threw for 1,694 yards, 11 TDs . . . Completed 53.6% of his passes (228 for 425) for 2,946 yards in 1980 . . . Threw for 16 touchdowns and 20 interceptions . . . Reached a major milestone in his career in 1980, passing the 30,000-yard plateau against Detroit Sept. 21, becoming only the fifth player in history to accomplish that . . . Performed at this level despite suffering 40 sacks, the most of his professional career, because of many injuries to the line . . . Tied then club record with 28 completions against San Francisco . . . Threw for more than 300 yards twice in 1980 . . . Started 15 games in '80 missing the season finale with a cracked rib, which also forced him out of the second half of game 15 in Philadelphia . . . Half of his 1980 TD passes covered more than 30 yards . . . Holds club records for attempts, completions, yards, TDs and interceptions for a career, and for attempts (477) and completions (240) in a season, set in 1978 . . . His best days passing in his career were Oct. 17, 1976 vs. Dallas: 22 completions for 346 yards and 3 TDs and Nov. 9, 1980 vs. Atlanta with 25 completions for 344 yards and 2 TDs . . . His best QB rating for a single season was 81.7 in 1976 . . . Has 16 career TDs rushing . . . Combined with his 205 touchdown passes, he has produced 1,326 points for the Big Red on 221 TDs . . . His longest run from scrimmage in his career is 23 yards . . . Completed his 2,000th pass on Sept. 16, 1979 . . . Voted NFC Player of the Year in 1974 when he threw a career-high 20 TD passes in leading the club to its first divisional championship . . . Has played in four Pro Bowls ('74, '75, '76, '77) . . . Voted team MVP three times (1973, '75, '78) . . . Received Whizzer White Award from the NFLPA, signifying the NFL's top humanitarian, in 1976 and in 1980 was awarded the YMCA Brian Piccolo Award as the most civic-minded athlete in professional sports . . . Earned reserve squad spot in 1966 after signing as undrafted free agent . . . Played in season finale that year . . . Became a starter in 1967, four days before season opener, when Charley Johnson was called into the Army.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Record-setting passer at Southern Illinois-Carbondale . . . Member of SIU Hall of Fame . . . Has B.S. in education . . . Born in Evanston, Ill. and graduate of Niles West (Skokie, Ill.) High . . . Has radio show (KMOX) with Dan Dierdorf . . . Would like to continue his broadcasting career when playing days are over . . . Active civic leader who is involved with many charities (on board of directors for Multiple Sclerosis, Special Olympics, March of Dimes, Missouri Read-A-Thon, chairman of St. Louis Heart Association, state chairman for cerebral palsy and Fellowship of Christian Athletes) . . . ## DRAFT CHOICES

The following are biographical sketches of the Cardinals 1983 draft choices, in the order they were selected:

LEONARD SMITH      CB      McNeese State      Born: 9/2/60
45      D-1      Ht: 5-11      Wt: 190      Lake Charles, LA

Rated as the first or second best cornerback in most scouting reports . . . Selected first team All-American Division 1-AA and first team All-Southland Conference in 1982 . . . Also named Louisiana's Outstanding Defensive Player last season . . . Great speed (4.5), hitting ability and man-on-man defender who also possesses tremendous knack for blocking kicks . . . Blocked a state, conference and school record 17 kicks in his career . . . "He's real quick getting off the ball," said Director of Player Personnel George Boone in reference to his kick-blocking technique. "You have to really want to do it first of all. He's willing to throw his body at the ball and extend himself. He's blocked a lot of them and he has the knack for it, but we drafted him to play cornerback. That's what excited us about him." . . . "Leonard is a hitter," said Head Coach Jim Hanifan. "He's played left and right cornerback, mostly left, but it doesn't matter that much. They (cornerbacks) have to be able to flop with different formations anyway. His athletic ability and aggressiveness is what makes him a good football player." . . . Named team MVP in '82, leading the Cowboys in passes defended (8) and blocked kicks (5) . . . Finished second in tackles (68) . . . Earned all-conference honors the past three years . . . Intercepted seven passes in his career . . . Outstanding upper body strength, can bench press 325 pounds . . . "He has great football instincts and savvy," said Boone . . . First of three cornerbacks drafted by Cardinals in top four rounds . . . Scouting reports describe him as a "great physical talent who does excellent job on man-to-man coverage — ideal blend for today's cornerback needs." . . . Started 34 consecutive games since his sophomore season . . . Enjoys restoring old cars; worked as a part-time mechanic in uncle's garage . . . Spent six years restoring a 1949 Chevrolet only to have it totalled in an accident last summer . . . Majored in Art . . . Third cornerback drafted: seventeenth player taken overall.

Rated among the top ten cornerbacks, with outstanding pass coverage ability . . . Can play either corner, as well as return kicks . . . Intercepted five passes in his four-year career . . . Also played baseball at Baylor, starting in centerfield . . . Tied school record with 19 stolen bases in 1981 . . . "He has great cover ability," said George Boone. "We feel he will get better than he is now because his mind has been divided between baseball and football during four years of college. He'll be even better when he concentrates on football. He has great jumping ability, which is a key for a cornerback going for the ball." . . . Broke up a career high nine passes in 1982 . . . "He has as much ability as anybody we've had at Baylor, and that includes Gary Green (1976 All-American)," said Baylor secondary coach Billy Mills . . . Three year starter, intercepted four passes in 1980, including the conference title clincher . . . "He likes to play the receiver close," said Boone. "Sometimes people will get behind you when you play tight, but we realize he has that confidence to challenge people. It shows his mental toughness and determination. He's willing to run with people. We like that in a cornerback with today's passing attacks."

A charter member of the National Football League, able to trace its ancestry to 1898, the Cardinals arrived in St. Louis in 1960.

Since then, the downtown area has entered a period of expansion, growth and progress featuring Busch Stadium, the 630-foot Gateway Arch and a new Convention Center.

Throughout the 22 year period the Cardinal teams have made steady progress with two NFC Eastern Division Championships, talented personnel and exciting football. Fan interest has constantly increased, too, from a season sale of 13,994 in old Busch Stadium to a record high of 42,233 in 1979.

Founded by the late Chris O'Brien in 1898, the team began as a group gathered to play football on Chicago's south side. The team gained long-standing identification when O'Brien bought used jerseys from the University of Chicago with the famed Chicago maroon faded.

"That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red," said O'Brien — and the Cardinals it has been ever since.

The team grew in the Chicago area until finally, in 1920, it became one of eleven charter members of the American Professional Football League. The Cardinals won their first NFL title in 1925 when the league expanded to 20 teams.

A Chicago dentist, Dr. David Jones, bought the team in 1929. Then in 1932 the organization was acquired by Charles W. Bidwill, father of the present owner.

The team experienced some difficult years in the 1930's and early 1940's until in 1947 success was realized. Coached by Jim Conzelman and boasting a nucleus of the "dream backfield" of Paul Christman, Marshall Goldberg, Pat Harder and Charley Trippi, the Cardinals won the Western Division title, then downed the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-21, for the NFL championship.

Before having an opportunity to participate in the victory, Bidwill died in April, 1947, with ownership passing to his widow. Upon her death 15 years later, control moved to sons Charles W. Bidwill, Jr., and William V. Bidwill.

In 1972 Bill Bidwill and his family became the sole owner with Bill becoming managing general partner. On July 1, 1979, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer and becoming president in that new structure.

Most recently, Bidwill became the club's Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer with Bing Devine returning to the organization after a six-month absence to serve as President and Chief Operating Officer.

It was in 1974 after 14 years as the St. Louis representative with the Cardinals, under the direction of Coach Don Coryell, captured the NFC Eastern Division championship with a 10-4 mark only to lose their first playoff appearance since 1948, 30-14 to the Vikings.

Again 1975 brought a division title but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams, Dec. 27, in Los Angeles, 35-23.

Disappointingly the Big Red were close, but missed playoff berths in 1976 and 1977 after which a frustrated Coryell resigned. Perhaps even more surprising was the announcement March 2, 1978, that the new Big Red coach was the legendary Bud Wilkinson. He was returning to the football field this time at the professional level, some 15 years after his glory days at Oklahoma came to an end in 1963.

Before completing his second season, Wilkinson was released as head coach with three games remaining in 1979. Larry Wilson was named interim coach. Then on Jan. 30, 1980, Jim Hanifan, the great offensive assistant with the Cardinals under Corvelli, was named head coach.

Hanifan took the Cardinals to the playoffs in 1982, his third season as coach.

There have been many great football names linked with the Cardinals' history to date in St. Louis. Among the players who left indelible memories up to the present-day performers are Jim Bakken, Ernie McMillan, Jackie Smith, Larry Stallings and perhaps the most memorable of all, Larry Wilson.

Climaxing a 13-season playing career with the Cardinals and seven years in the front office, Wilson was selected to Pro Football's Hall of Fame in 1978. In emotional and impressive ceremonies, Larry was officially inducted as the 11th former Cardinal to gain entrance. The others are Ernie Nevers, Earl "Curly" Lambeau, Jim Conzelman, Paddy Driscoll, Guy Chamberlain, Walter Kiesling, Charles W. Bidwill, Charley Trippi, Ollie Matson, Dick "Night Train" Lane, and Jim Thorpe.

EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY, CHARLESTON, ILLINOIS

The Football Cardinals 1983 Training Camp site will again be Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, Illinois, but their visit will be more permanent this year.

After splitting the camp between two sites the past two years, three weeks of which were spent at EIU in 1982, the Big Red will conduct its entire five-week training session at the school this year.

The university is located approximately 130 miles northeast of St. Louis. Players and staff will be housed in Stevenson Tower on the campus, adjacent to the athletic building and practice fields.

Camp is scheduled to open July 11 when rookies and selected veterans report. The remaining veterans are scheduled to report on July 22.

Players will arrive in St. Louis on Sunday, July 10 in order to take their training camp physical in St. Louis on Monday morning and report to camp that evening. The first workout is scheduled for Tuesday morning. The veterans will take their physicals in St. Louis on Friday morning, July 22 and report to camp that evening.

The club will work out twice a day, in the morning and afternoon, six days a week. Practices will be open to the media and the public. Media should contact the Cardinals Public Relations office in Stevenson Tower for credentials to cover the camp.

As a part of camp, a scrimmage is scheduled for Saturday, July 30 at the Eastern Illinois football stadium.

The Cardinals will break camp on Friday, August 19. They will play their final road preseason game on August 20 and then hold workouts at Busch Stadium the following week in preparation for the final game of the preseason.

1982 GAME-BY-GAME

GAME 1 — Cardinals 21, New Orleans Saints 7

Sept. 12 at New Orleans (58,673) — The Cardinal defense held the Saints scoreless until the final minute of the game while also setting up two Big Red touchdowns. Leading 7-0 at half, the Cardinals second score was set up by rookie safety Benny Perrin's first career interception, which he returned 35 yards to the New Orleans 13 yard line. The Big Red put the game away with a 12-yard TD pass from Neil Lomax to Pat Tilley. That score was set up by Curtis Greer's recovery of a fumble at the New Orleans 42. The defense came up with five QB sacks and four turnovers. Lomax completed 10 of 18 passes for 92 yards and Ottis Anderson rushed for 62 yards and a touchdown on 22 attempts.

GAME 2 — Dallas Cowboys 24, Cardinals 7

Sept. 19 at Busch Stadium (50,705) — Dallas scored 17 unanswered points in the second half, while their defense held the Cardinals in check. A key third quarter interception by Everson Walls set up the Cowboys third TD moments after they had taken a 14-7 lead. Ottis Anderson was held to 30 yards on 17 carries and the Cardinals rushed for only 62 yards all day. Neil Lomax completed 22 of 38 passes for 291 yards, one touchdown and one interception. The Cowboys Tony Dorsett rushed for 98 yards on 22 carries. Roy Green had his best career game receiving with 10 receptions for 170 yards.

Nov. 21 at Busch Stadium (38,064) — Joe Montana threw three second half touchdown passes to rally the 49ers past the Cardinals in the first game following the 57-day players strike. Neil Lomax struggled through an off day, completing nine of 23 passes. Jim Hart entered the game in the final period to drive the club to its final touchdown. Montana set a 49er record by passing for 408 yards. He completed 26 of 39 passes. Ottis Anderson rushed for 65 yards on 15 carries and caught six passes for 51 yards.

GAME 4 — Cardinals 23, Atlanta Falcons 20

Nov. 28 at Atlanta (33,411) — A fourth and goal quarterback sneak by Neil Lomax from six inches away proved to be the key play in the Cardinals second win of the season. After being stopped on three running plays from the two yard line, the Cardinals kicked a field goal, which would have extended their fourth quarter lead to 20-13. When Atlanta was penalized for having 12 men on the field, the Big Red accepted the penalty and came away with six points instead of three. Ottis Anderson rushed for 122 of the team's 203 yards on the ground. Neil Lomax completed 10 of his 15 passes for 109.

GAME 5 — Cardinals 23, Philadelphia Eagles 20

Dec. 5 at Philadelphia (63,622) — Subbing for Ottis Anderson, Stump Mitchell led the Big Red to another 23-20 victory by rushing for 145 yards and a touchdown on 25 carries. The offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage all day as the Cardinals rushed for a team total of 231 yards and held the ball for 37 minutes to the Eagles 23 minutes. Hoping for good field position for a tying field goal, Philadelphia punted to the Cardinal 10 yard line with nearly seven minutes to play, but the Big Red kept the ball for 14 plays to run out the clock. Curtis Greer, who had two sacks, set up one Cardinal score when he jarred the ball loose from Ron Jaworski.

1982 GAME-BY-GAME

GAME 7 — Cardinals 10, Chicago Bears 7

Dec. 19 at Chicago (43,270) — Neil O'Donoghue's 48-yard field goal with 25 seconds left in the game gave the Cardinals their fourth victory of the year and put them back into the playoff picture. Windy, cold conditions hampered the Cardinals passing attack. They completed nine of 26 passes for 110 yards. The Bears' John Roveto missed three field goal attempts in the game. Wayne Morris' 1-yard TD run was the 35th of his career, setting a new club record.

GAME 8 — Cardinals 24, New York Giants 21

Dec. 26 at Busch Stadium (39,824) — Neil Lomax connected with Roy Green for an eight-yard touchdown pass with 27 seconds left in the game for a dramatic 24-21 victory which clinched a spot in the playoffs. The Giants had rallied in the final minutes with two touchdown passes from Scott Brunner to John Mistler for a 21-17 lead. Taking the ball with 1:07 left, Lomax drove the Cardinals into scoring position by hitting Willard Harrell with a 36-yard completion to the New York eight yard line, before throwing to Green for the winning TD on the next play. Ottis Anderson rushed for 110 yards on 30 carries. In the final game of his career, Roger Wehrli scored the Cardinals first touchdown by running 18 yards with a fake field goal.

Jan. 8 at Green Bay (54,282) — Lynn Dickey completed 17 of 23 passes for 260 yards and four touchdowns to lead the Packers to the victory which eliminated the Cardinals from the Super Bowl Tournament. The Cardinals were unable to sack Dickey or apply consistent pressure which exposed an injured secondary. Neil Lomax turned in his finest passing game, with 32 completions in 51 attempts for an NFL record 385 yards and two touchdowns. The 32 completions set a new club record and his 51 attempts tied another.

ROSTER DESIGNATIONS

All Rookies in NFL rosters will carry the designation "R" under the heading of NFL experience. Rookies are players who have never attended an NFL training camp previously. Players with the "1" (one) designation are first-year players who have been at a training camp previously but did not play in a minimum of three regular-season games and thus did not qualify as a second-year player. Only players with the "R" designation are eligible for rookie honors.

INTRODUCTION

Although the National Football League was founded in 1920, official statistics and records were not recorded for many years, and some are more recent additions than others. Below is a history of when many of today's official statistical categories were initiated.

Scoring: Scores of all games are available starting in 1920, for purposes of records, however, totals date from 1932. Individual scoring statistics also date from 1932. Extra point and field goal attempts start in 1937.

Rushing: Statistics begin in 1932.

Passing: Statistics begin in 1932. Until 1947, what is now called "yards lost attempting to pass" was recorded in the rushing statistics. From 1947 to 1951, "yards lost attempting to pass" was recorded, but was not included in either the net rushing or the net passing yardage totals (and consequently was not a part of "total net yards gained"). Starting in 1952, passing yardage team totals include "yards lost attempting to pass," although sacks were not recorded before 1963. Lateral passes were maintained as a separate category until 1950, at which time yardage gained or lost as a result of lateral passes was included in the category initiating the action (e.g., rushing).

Pass Receiving: Statistics begin in 1932.

Interceptions By: Individual statistics begin in 1940, but individual touchdowns are available from 1932. Team totals for interceptions and touchdowns start in 1932, and team yardage totals start in 1940.

Punting: Complete seasonal statistics begin in 1939, although frequently during the period 1933-1938 individual and/or team punting totals are listed on official score blanks. Such game totals are included as official records, where applicable.

Punt Returns: Complete individual totals date from 1941, although team yardage figures date from 1936. Touchdowns are available since 1932.

Kickoff Returns: Complete individual totals date from 1941, although team yardage figures date from 1940. Touchdowns are available since 1932.

Fumbles: Individual totals start in 1945. Team totals for fumbles and for total fumbles recovered begin in 1935, and the breakdown of own and opponents' recoveries dates from 1938.

First Downs: Statistics begin in 1933, while the rushing — passing — by penalty breakdown commences in 1939 (although some games in 1937-38 include this information).

Penalties: Yards penalized dates from 1936, penalties start in 1941.

Sacks: Official quarterback sack totals began with 1982 season.

(All records include years when team was in Chicago)

1983 POST-SEASON GAME PRIORITY

On December 31 and January 1, the NFC and AFC divisional playoff game matchups will be as follows: The two division winners with the best regular season won-lost percentage will be the home teams. The division winner with the best percentage will be host to the wild card team and the division winner with the second best percentage will be host to the third division winner.

If the wild card team is from the same division as the winner with the best percentage, the division winner with the best percentage will be host to the third division winner and the second highest division winner will be host to the wild card team.

For the NFC and AFC conference championships on January 8, 1984, the surviving division winners with the best regular season won-lost percentages will be the home teams.

FORMULA TO BREAK STANDINGS TIES FOR POST-SEASON PLAYOFFS

To break a tie within a division, these steps will be taken, in order: (1) Best won-lost percentage in head-to-head competition; (2) Best won-lost percentage in games within division; (3) Best won-lost percentage vs. conference opponents; (4) Best won-lost percentage vs. common opponents; (5) Best net points in division games; (6) Best net points in all games; (7) Strength of schedule; (8) Best net touchdowns in all games; (9) Coin toss.

In selecting the wild card teams, if there are two or more teams tied with the leading won-lost percentage, these steps will be taken; If there are more than two teams tied and two are from the same division, the division tie first will be broken. The surviving ties would then be broken under the following conference tie-breakers.

To break a tie within a conference, these steps will be taken, in order: (1) Best percentage in head-to-head competition. This is applicable in a three-way tie only if one club beat both others or one club lost to both others; (2) Best won-lost percentage against conference opponents; (3) Best won-lost percentage vs. common opponents; (4) Best net points in conference games; (5) Best net points in all games; (6) Strength of schedule; (7) Best net touchdowns in all games; (8) Coin toss.

SCHEDULE FORMULA

If you finish in first place in a five-team division, your opponents the following year will be:

- one game with teams one through four in a division of other conference — 4
- one game each with the two other second place teams and the two other third place teams in your conference — 4

If you finish third in a five-team division, your schedule is:

- home-and-home games with the other four teams in division — 8
- one game each with teams one through four in a division of other conference — 4
- one game each with the two other third place teams and the two other second place teams in your conference — 4

If you finish fourth in a five-team division, your schedule is:

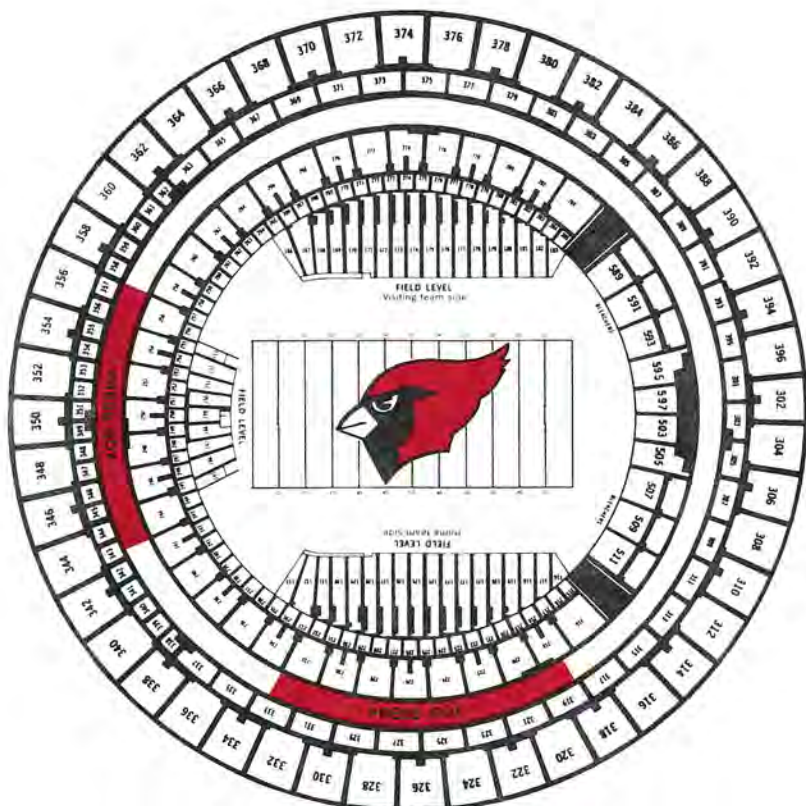

- home-and-home games with the other four teams in your division — 8
- one game each with teams one through four in a division of other conference — 4
- one game each with the two other first place teams and the two other fourth place teams in your conference — 4

If you finish fifth in a five-team division, your schedule is:

- home-and-home games with the other four teams in your division — 8
- one game with teams one through four of the four-team division in your conference — 4
- home-and-home games with other fifth place team in your conference — 2
- one game with each fifth place team in other conference — 2

Media entering Busch Stadium for Football Cardinal games should enter through the advance ticket office doors on street level on the west side of the stadium. To get to the press box, take the elevator, located just inside the doors, to the fifth level.

The main football press box is located on the south side of the stadium behind the Cardinal bench. The auxiliary press box is on the fifth level, on the west side, adjacent to the elevator.

The press box lounge is located in the auxiliary box. Food and beverages are also served in the main box.

To reach the lockerrooms, take the elevator to the first level and turn right out of the elevator. To get to the visiting lockerroom, make a second right; to the home lockerroom, turn left.
